process-rovingideas.net

Go to the area between the Esplanade Concert Hall (level 1) doors

at 3.10 pm on the first Sunday of the month and wait to witness the cacophony of both audiences and performers after a beautiful performance info next list

Home page

shows selected instruction at random - a good starting point especially for returning viewers revisiting the page for new instructions - they do not have to go through multiple clicks repeated times

>info leads to specific instruction page >next leads to next random instruction > list leads to instructions' main page in list form

process-rovingideas.net

info up down

Go to the area between the Esplanade Concert Hall (level 1) doors at 3.10 pm on the first Sunday of the month and wait to witness the cacophony of both audiences and performers after a beautiful performance.

Go to the forested area behind Gillman Barracks at 6 am on any weekday and pay attention to the sound of insects and birds.

Go to your room window at 3 am on anyday and observe and record any activity causing lights, sounds, or movements.

Go to the area between the Esplanade Concert Hall (level 1) doors at 3.10 pm on the first Sunday of the month and wait to

Instructions page

shows all instructions in list form - the top most visible is highlighted with its corresponding number, title, and artist appearing at the top. Numbers are needed for easier navigation.

>info leads to specific instruction page

clicking >up or >down will cause instructions to move up/down by 10 instructions (for quick scrolling)

process-rovingideas.net

witness the cacophony of both audiences and performers after a beautiful performance.

Go to the forested area behind Gillman Barracks at 6 am on any weekday and pay attention to the sound of insects and birds.

Go to your room window at 3 am on anyday and observe and record any activity causing lights, sounds, or movements.

Go to the area between the Esplanade Concert Hall (level 1) doors at 3.10 pm on the first Sunday of the month and wait to witness the cacophony of both audiences and performers after a beautiful performance.

Go to the forested area behind Gillman Barracks at 6 am on any

Instructions page

shows all instructions in list form - the top most visible is highlighted with its corresponding number, title, and artist appearing at the top. Numbers are needed for easier navigation.

>info leads to specific instruction page

clicking >up or >down will cause instructions to move up/down by 10 instructions (for quick scrolling)

process-rovingideas.net

info up down

Go to the forested area behind Gillman Barracks at 6 am on any weekday and pay attention to the sound of insects and birds.

Go to your room window at 3 am on anyday and observe and record any activity causing lights, sounds, or movements.

Go to the area between the Esplanade Concert Hall (level 1) doors at 3.10 pm on the first Sunday of the month and wait to witness the cacophony of both audiences and performers after a beautiful performance.

Go to the forested area behind Gillman Barracks at 6 am on any weekday and pay attention to the sound of insects and birds.

Instructions page

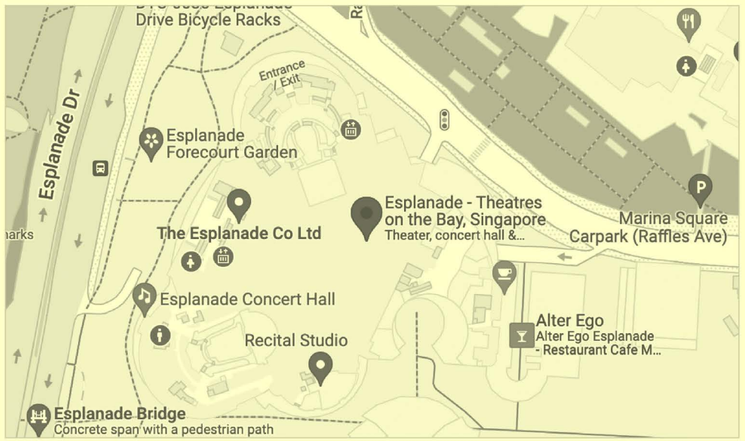

shows all instructions in list form - the top most visible is highlighted with its corresponding number, title, and artist appearing at the top. Numbers are needed for easier navigation.

>info leads to specific instruction page

clicking >up or >down will cause instructions to move up/down by 10 instructions (for quick scrolling)

process-rovingideas.net

Go to the area between the Esplanade Concert Hall (level 1) doors at 3.10 pm on the first Sunday of the month and wait to witness the cacophony of both audiences and performers after a beautiful performance.

This work was formed in 2012, For Tracy Hyde have gone through a few line-up changes, but the vibe of their music has remained unchanged: uplifting melodies and shimmery chords drenched in dreamy atmospheres, all on top of powerful and prominent beats. Influenced by old-school British shoegaze, bands on the Captured Tracks roster, '60s psych pop, and Japan's own unique and rich J-Pop scene.

Hong Shu-ying is have constantly churned out brightly-coloured dream pop tunes sung largely in their native tongue, with the occasional English song here and there on their last two albums. In addition to playing with countless local shoegaze

Esplanade
performing arts
sound

Specific instruction page

Clicking on >info or the instruction itself will lead to this page

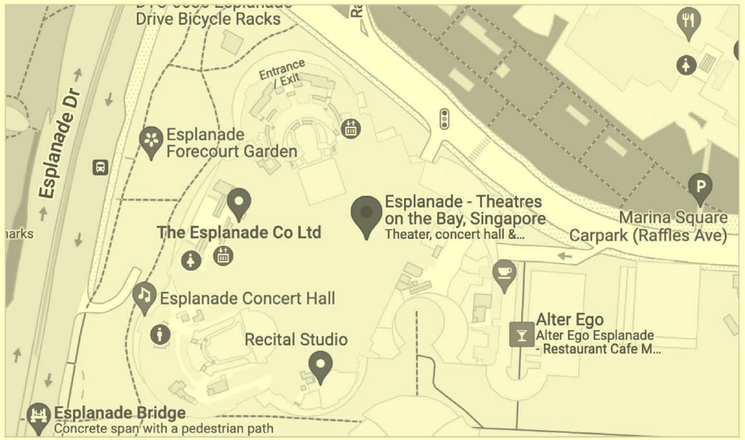

Contents include:
- instruction
- artist description
- artist bio
- map/location

tags will be listed on the side and remain in fixed position.

clicking >back or >next leads to previous/next specific instruction page.

process-rovingideas.net

doors at 3.10 pm on the first Sunday of the month and wait to witness the cacophony of both audiences and performers after a beautiful performance.

This work was formed in 2012, For Tracy Hyde have gone through a few line-up changes, but the vibe of their music has remained unchanged: uplifting melodies and shimmery chords drenched in dreamy atmospheres, all on top of powerful and prominent beats. Influenced by old-school British shoegaze, bands on the Captured Tracks roster, '60s psych pop, and Japan's own unique and rich J-Pop scene.

Hong Shu-ying is have constantly churned out brightly-coloured dream pop tunes sung largely in their native tongue, with the occasional English song here and there on their last two albums. In addition to playing with countless local shoegaze and indie bands, they have opened for international acts such as Hazel English (AU/US), Sobs (SG), Cosmic Child (SG), Lucid Express (FKA Thud, HK) and The Embassy (SE).

Esplanade
performing arts
sound

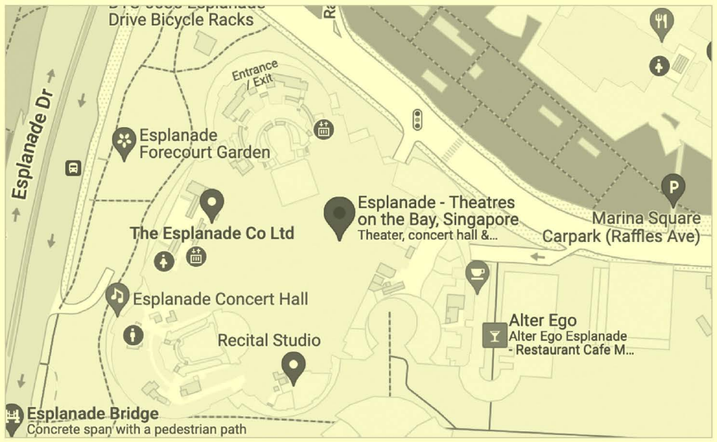

Specific instruction page

Clicking on >info or the instruction itself will lead to this page

Contents include:
- instruction
- artist description
- artist bio
- map/location

tags will be listed on the side and remain in fixed position.

clicking >back or >next leads to previous/next specific instruction page.

This work was formed in 2012, For Tracy Hyde have gone through a few line-up changes, but the vibe of their music has remained unchanged: uplifting melodies and shimmery chords drenched in dreamy atmospheres, all on top of powerful and prominent beats. Influenced by old-school British shoegaze, bands on the Captured Tracks roster, '60s psych pop, and Japan's own unique and rich J-Pop scene.

Hong Shu-ying is have constantly churned out brightly-coloured dream pop tunes sung largely in their native tongue, with the occasional English song here and there on their last two albums. In addition to playing with countless local shoegaze and indie bands, they have opened for international acts such as Hazel English (AU/US), Sobs (SG), Cosmic Child (SG), Lucid Express (FKA Thud, HK) and The Embassy (SE).

back next list

Esplanade
performing arts
sound

See documentation

Specific instruction page

Clicking on >info or the instruction itself will lead to this page

Contents include:
- instruction
- artist description
- artist bio
- map/location

tags will be listed on the side and remain in fixed position.

clicking >back or >next leads to previous/next specific instruction page.

we'll find a better way to include IG documentation (link) here

process-rovingideas.net

contributors search

Hong Shu-ying

Robert Zhao Renhui

Berny Tan

Genevieve Leong

John Tung

Hong Shu-ying

Robert Zhao Renhui

Contributors page

all names will be in grey unless clicked

process-rovingideas.net

Hong Shu-ying

see contribution

Hong Shu-ying (b.1997) is an artist working with metaphors she finds in what is familiar to her. Informed by her lived experiences and growing up in Singapore, she is a keen observer of the traces people leave on and for each other. Shu recently graduated with a BFA in Media Art (Photography) from the Nanyang Technological University, School of Art, Design and Media.

Robert Zhao Renhui

Berny Tan

Genevieve Leong

John Tung

Contributors page

all names will be in grey unless clicked

>see contribution appears when bio is shown

process-rovingideas.net

about search

Process: Roving Ideas is a self-guided experience featuring a series of text-based instructions. Taking place all over Singapore, these site-specific instructions serve as prompts for participants to discover a unique experience envisioned by each contributing artist. In doing so, the project aims to uncover the potential of different locations outside of a typical white cube gallery or museum setting.

Stemming from a desire to connect more with our environments and to draw out inherent experiences often overlooked in our daily life, the format of the project is inspired by significant art movements such as Fluxus, instructional and conceptual art, environmental art, and relational art. Through its execution, the project also strives to introduce different forms of art appreciation, foster a regular appreciation of arts in our everyday life, and facilitate the creation of shared experiences among the community.

Titled with words that encapsulate the spirit of this

About page

Main text in large point size and subsequent info in smaller point size

process-rovingideas.net

art, and relational art. Through its execution, the project also strives to introduce different forms of art appreciation, foster a regular appreciation of arts in our everyday life, and facilitate the creation of shared experiences among the community.

Titled with words that encapsulate the spirit of this project, Process: Roving Ideas is also an anagram of SingaporeRediscovers. The project encourages the public to “discover Singapore with fresh eyes” and gain better awareness and appreciation of our surroundings through artistic encounters.

Audience participants are encouraged to document and share their own experiences via the project hashtags on Instagram and Facebook.

Project Team

Conceptualised and curated by

Goh Chun Aik

Goh Chun Aik is interested in the human mind and how

About page

Main text in large point size and subsequent info in smaller point size experiences among the community.

Titled with words that encapsulate the spirit of this project, Process: Roving Ideas is also an anagram of SingaporeRediscovers. The project encourages the public to “discover Singapore with fresh eyes” and gain better awareness and appreciation of our surroundings through artistic encounters.

Audience participants are encouraged to document and share their own experiences via the project hashtags on Instagram and Facebook.

Project Team

Conceptualised and curated by

Goh Chun Aik

Goh Chun Aik is interested in the human mind and how we perceive the world. Through extended observations of what is visible and ruminating on what lies beneath, he strives to investigate our relationships with each other, with art, and with the world.

About page

Sections are highlighted (in black) when it reaches center of window

process-rovingideas.net

Conceptualised and curated by

Goh Chun Aik

Goh Chun Aik is interested in the human mind and how we perceive the world. Through extended observations of what is visible and ruminating on what lies beneath, he strives to investigate our relationships with each other, with art, and with the world.

instagram.com/crashingmoments gohchunaik.com

part of

SAW SINGAPOREARTWEEK

supported by

NATIONAL ARTS COUNCIL SINGAPORE

About page

Sections are highlighted (in black) when it reaches center of window

Go to

Process: Roving Ideas

and/to perform artists' instructions

at

Singapore Art Week

Process: Roving Ideas is a self-guided experience featuring a series of text-based instructions curated by Goh Chun Aik. These site-specific prompts encourage the public to discover unique experiences across the island envisioned by contributing artists. Through these artistic encounters, the project aims to foster greater awareness and appreciation of our surroundings. View the instructions on process-rovingideas.net.

part of

SAW SINGAPOREARTWEEK

supported by

NATIONAL ARTS COUNCIL SINGAPORE

Poster

takes a 'matter-of-fact' approach that emphasises the idea of adopting an instruction as the 'key visual' entire description + website link (highlighted for emphasis) is typeset in a block with logos on the side, forming a longer block we propose to edit 'and' to 'and/to'. this will allow the posters to be stacked and read vertically or horizontally (see next few slides), which has an indirect connection to the anagrammed title and loosely references the iterative/generative nature of some conceptual art.

Go to

Process: Roving Ideas

and/to

perform artists’ instructions

at

Singapore Art Week

Process: Roving Ideas is a self-guided experience featuring a series of text-based instructions curated by Goh Chun Aik. These site-specific prompts encourage the public to discover unique experiences across the island envisioned by contributing artists. Through these artistic encounters, the project aims to foster greater awareness and appreciation of our surroundings. View the instructions on process-rovingideas.net.

part of SAW SINGAPOREARTWEEK

supported by NATIONAL ARTS COUNCIL SINGAPORE

At

Singapore Art Week

go to

Process: Roving Ideas

and/to

perform artists’ instructions

Process: Roving Ideas is a self-guided experience featuring a series of text-based instructions curated by Goh Chun Aik. These site-specific prompts encourage the public to discover unique experiences across the island envisioned by contributing artists. Through these artistic encounters, the project aims to foster greater awareness and appreciation of our surroundings. View the instructions on process-rovingideas.net.

part of SAW SINGAPOREARTWEEK

supported by NATIONAL ARTS COUNCIL SINGAPORE

2 to form an A2 (landscape) poster instructions can be read vertically on each individual poster or from left to right, top to bottom (instruction will then be repeated twice).

Go to

Process: Roving Ideas

and/to

perform artists’ instructions

at

Singapore Art Week

Process: Roving Ideas is a self-guided experience featuring a series of text-based instructions curated by Goh Chun Aik. These site-specific prompts encourage the public to discover unique experiences across the island envisioned by contributing artists. Through these artistic encounters, the project aims to foster greater awareness and appreciation of our surroundings. View the instructions on process-rovingideas.net.

part of SAW SINGAPOREARTWEEK

supported by NATIONAL ARTS COUNCIL SINGAPORE

At

Singapore Art Week

go to

Process: Roving Ideas

and/to

perform artists’ instructions

Process: Roving Ideas is a self-guided experience featuring a series of text-based instructions curated by Goh Chun Aik. These site-specific prompts encourage the public to discover unique experiences across the island envisioned by contributing artists. Through these artistic encounters, the project aims to foster greater awareness and appreciation of our surroundings. View the instructions on process-rovingideas.net.

part of SAW SINGAPOREARTWEEK

supported by NATIONAL ARTS COUNCIL SINGAPORE

And/to

perform artists’ instructions

at

Singapore Art Week

go to

Process: Roving Ideas

Process: Roving Ideas is a self-guided experience featuring a series of text-based instructions curated by Goh Chun Aik. These site-specific prompts encourage the public to discover unique experiences across the island envisioned by contributing artists. Through these artistic encounters, the project aims to foster greater awareness and appreciation of our surroundings. View the instructions on process-rovingideas.net.

part of SAW SINGAPOREARTWEEK

supported by NATIONAL ARTS COUNCIL SINGAPORE

3 side by side instructions can be read vertically on each individual poster or from left to right.

i.e.:

Go to Process: Roving Ideas at Singapore Art Week to perform artists’ instructions

To perform artists’ instructions, go to Process: Roving Ideas at Singapore Art Week

At Singapore Art Week, to perform artists’ instructions, go to Process: Roving Ideas

Go to

Process: Roving Ideas

and/to

perform artists' instructions

at

Singapore Art Week

Process: Roving Ideas is a self-guided experience featuring a series of text-based instructions curated by Goh Chun Aik. These site-specific prompts encourage the public to discover unique experiences across the island envisioned by contributing artists. Through these artistic encounters, the project aims to foster greater awareness and appreciation of our surroundings. View the instructions on process-rovingideas.net.

part of SAW SINGAPORE ART WEEK

supported by NATIONAL ARTS COUNCIL SINGAPORE

At

Singapore Art Week

go to

Process: Roving Ideas

and/to

perform artists' instructions

Process: Roving Ideas is a self-guided experience featuring a series of text-based instructions curated by Goh Chun Aik. These site-specific prompts encourage the public to discover unique experiences across the island envisioned by contributing artists. Through these artistic encounters, the project aims to foster greater awareness and appreciation of our surroundings. View the instructions on process-rovingideas.net.

part of SAW SINGAPORE ART WEEK

supported by NATIONAL ARTS COUNCIL SINGAPORE

At

Singapore Art Week

and/to

perform artists' instructions

go to

Process: Roving Ideas

Process: Roving Ideas is a self-guided experience featuring a series of text-based instructions curated by Goh Chun Aik. These site-specific prompts encourage the public to discover unique experiences across the island envisioned by contributing artists. Through these artistic encounters, the project aims to foster greater awareness and appreciation of our surroundings. View the instructions on process-rovingideas.net.

part of SAW SINGAPORE ART WEEK

supported by NATIONAL ARTS COUNCIL SINGAPORE

Go to

Process: Roving Ideas

at

Singapore Art Week

and/to

perform artists' instructions

Process: Roving Ideas is a self-guided experience featuring a series of text-based instructions curated by Goh Chun Aik. These site-specific prompts encourage the public to discover unique experiences across the island envisioned by contributing artists. Through these artistic encounters, the project aims to foster greater awareness and appreciation of our surroundings. View the instructions on process-rovingideas.net.

part of SAW SINGAPORE ART WEEK

supported by NATIONAL ARTS COUNCIL SINGAPORE

4 to form an A1 poster

instructions can be read vertically on each individual poster or from left to right, top to bottom (where instructions will be repeated twice).